Sentry Security Systems Inc. announces Sentry Access Control

Sentry launches new access control product line that's designed with reliability and ease of installation in mind at a much lower cost.

Kingston, ONT — Sentry Security Systems Inc. has partnered with a major international manufacturer of access control products with worldwide distribution, including OEM suppliers to some of the leading security companies in the world. This partnership allows Sentry to offer a comprehensive range of access control equipment specifically tailored to meet the needs of Sentry dealers, at a much lower cost.

"Our goal is to provide our dealers with easy-to-use, fully supported security solutions at a lower cost" said Mike Demmons, Business Development Manager at Sentry. "This new partnership combined with feedback from Sentry Dealers has helped us establish an access control offering that meets these objectives providing our dealers with solutions that win business over their competition while retaining their profit margin."
